Abstract:	This collection from the Montgomery, Scott, and Wheeler families, spanning 60 linear feet, documents the history of Ardrossan, an estate in Villanova, Pennsylvania -- one of the largest on Philadelphia's Main Line -- and its residents over the course of more than two centuries. In 1911, local investment banker Colonel Robert Leaming Montgomery (1879-1949) hired Horace Trumbauer to design the residence on the family's 800-acre plot, complete with a dairy farm and horse stables. The son of William Woodrow Montgomery and Rebecca Waln Leaming, Robert L. Montgomery would go on to establish what is now the investment firm of Janney Montgomery Scott. He married Charlotte Hope Binney Tyler (1881-1970) in 1902, and the couple had four children: Helen Hope, Mary Binney, Robert Alexander, and Charlotte Ives. Their eldest daughter, Helen Hope Montgomery (1904-1995), became well known in Philadelphia's social circles, and she went on to marry Edgar Scott (1899-1995), grandson of Thomas A. Scott, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. She took over Ardrossan's management in the 1940s and oversaw its farming and dairy operations until her death. Helen Hope was also a philanthropist, a premiere horse trainer, and a respected horse show judge, who helped organize the popular Devon Horse Show. Helen Hope Montgomery Scott's life is said to have inspired Philip Barry's 1939 play The Philadelphia Story. The Scotts' son, Robert Montgomery Scott, was president and CEO of the Philadelphia Museum of Art for 14 years, with both attendance and endowment growing substantially under his direction. Among the items in this expansive collection are family letters, business papers, genealogical records, photographs and prints, photograph albums and scrapbooks, journals and diaries, books and publications, and financial records. The formation of the Ardrossan Estate, is well documented through building contracts; receipts and invoices; plans, blueprints, and images; correspondence with various contractors and architects; and a few livestock records. There is a cache of diaries from Helen Hope and Edgar Scott's son, Robert Montgomery Scott, as well papers on and from their ancestors of the Montgomery, Scott, Leaming, Waln, Tyler, and Binney families. Other highlights include the Scott's correspondence with notable figures, from celebrities to dignitaries; papers from the Montgomery family's Mansfield estate in South Carolina; and records on the Estate of Helen Hope Montgomery Scott.

Series 1. Family and genealogical records, 1775-2004, undated

Scope and content note

This series documents the genealogy and history of the combined Montgomery, Scott, and Wheeler families. Records include genealogical charts and research notes with supporting materials and papers, as well as correspondence of ancestors and collateral relatives. Family branches include Binney, Bogardus, Cox, Hart, Leaming, Montgomery, Scott, Tyler, Waln, Wheeler.

Leaming (Waln, Scott) family papers include genealogical information, correspondence, deeds, mortgages, and estate papers.

Montgomery family papers include the extensive genealogical research and charts of family members over multiple generations. There are some papers and correspondences of earlier and collateral family members. One notable item is an ammunition request made by William Montgomery in September 1776 (Box 2, Folder 11).

Scott family papers include correspondence of Thomas A. Scott and Mary Howard Scott, father and wife of Edgar T. Scott. Edgar's papers consist of correspondence, his certificate of appointment as Second Secretary of the Embassy of the United States in Paris, and documents related to his military service and death in France in 1918. Warwick P. Scott, brother of Edgar Scott, is represented by a childhood description of a visit to the Azores.

Tyler family papers include genealogical charts and information for several family branches, specifically Cox, Goddard, Howe, and Binney. Documents created by individuals of many generations are present. The oldest are John Cox's Minutes of the proceedings of the public creditors of Trenton and its vicinity from 1790 (Box 7, folder 11). Materials belonging to Charlotte Hope Binney Tyler's parents, grandfather, and paternal aunt (Helen Beach Tyler) include correspondence, travel diaries, diaries, and passports. There are three folders of letters to Helen Beach Tyler from Theodore, Edith, and Ethel Roosevelt (Box 13, folders 1-3).

Series 2. Colonel Robert Leaming Montgomery and Charlotte Hope B. T. Montgomery, circa 1870-1979, undated

Scope and content note

This series contains the papers of Colonel Robert L. Montgomery, Charlotte Hope B. T. Montgomery, and their youngest daughter, Charlotte Ives Montgomery. The Robert L. Montgomery's papers are mostly correspondence, but do include some bills, orders for clothing from London shops, military discharge papers, and ephemera. See Series 7 for correspondence and bills related to the construction of Ardrossan and operations of Mansfield Plantation.

Charlotte Hope Binney Tyler Montgomery kept extensive correspondence scrapbooks. Most of these were dismantled and foldered to protect the materials, and the letters can be found in Boxes 16-22. Otherwise, there is only a folder of material related to the Pennsylvania Society of the Colonial Dames of America, calling cards, and linen lists.

Charlotte Ives Montgomery is not well represented in the collection, but there is a letter and note to her mother and a file on Maryville Plantation, her home in South Carolina (Box 22, folders 4-6).

Series 7. Ardrossan Estate, Ardrossan Farms, and Mansfield Plantation, 1910-2005

Scope and content note

This series documents the construction of the house and other buildings on the Ardrossan estate with some papers related to operations. There are blueprints for many of the outbuildings and some alterations to the main house. Ardrossan Farms records cover the entire lifespan of the farm operations, but are spotty in coverage and depth. Documents include correspondence, tax returns, some operational papers, check stubs, farm bills, and papers relating to the dissolution of the farms and the sale of the herd in 1995. Mansfield Plantation files cover the period of 1932-1954 and contain extensive correspondence and operational records. Payroll records for these family businesses are included in the series, but files with sensitive information are closed to researchers for 75 years from the date of creation.

Series 9. Graphic materials, circa 1853 - 2016Scope and content note

This series is dominated by photographs, both loose and in albums, and scrapbooks kept by members of several generations. The photographs include daguerreotypes, tintypes, cabinet cards, cartes de visite, and prints from around the 1850s until the early 2000s, with the late 19th and early to mid-20th centuries being best represented. Photographs are sorted into loose photographs and albums and then roughly chronologically and by family group or generation. Early photographs document many ancestral branches of the combined Montgomery, Scott, Tyler, and Wheeler families. Twentieth century photographs and albums focus on Colonel Robert L. Montgomery and Charlotte Hope B. T. Montgomery and their descendants. Scrapbooks were kept by members of several generations and include photographs, letters, newspapers, and other ephemera. Many have been dismantled and foldered to better preserve the materials. Correspondence-only scrapbooks may be found filed in the other series by creator. There is also a photographic record of the portraits at Ardrossan (Box 97). Artwork in the series consists of a few silhouettes, a few miscellaneous portraits, some sketches by Mary Binney Montgomery, and a print. Maps depict the South Carolina coast, Mansfield Plantation, the Philadelphia Main Line, and Bordeaux, France.
